— FOR PLASTIC SURGERY —

Privacy Policy & Notice of Privacy Practices

Effective Date: March 23, 2026

Last Updated: March 23, 2026

Bassin Center for Plastic Surgery, its affiliates, subsidiaries, and entities under common management (“we,” “our,” or “us”) values your privacy. This Privacy Policy (“Policy”) describes how we collect, use, disclose, and otherwise process personal information through our website at www.plastic-surgery-florida.com and any other websites, patient portals, mobile applications, and digital services we operate (collectively, the “Services”).

This Policy also describes the rights and choices you have regarding your personal information. For additional information about rights you may have based on your state of residence, please see Section 13 (State-Specific Privacy Rights).

By using our Services, you agree that your personal information will be handled as described in this Policy. Your use of our Services and any dispute over privacy is subject to this Policy and the Terms and Conditions posted on our website.

1. Scope

This Policy applies to our personal information processing activities, including but not limited to:

- Visitors to www.plastic-surgery-florida.com and other websites where this Policy is posted;
- Individuals who schedule appointments, request consultations, or otherwise engage with our healthcare services;
- Individuals who create an account or access features through patient portals or other login-protected areas;
- Individuals who participate in events, surveys, clinical research, or promotions conducted by us;
- Individuals who sign up to receive marketing communications, newsletters, or other materials;
- Visitors to our physical office locations;
- Current, former, and prospective business partners and service providers; and
- Individuals who otherwise communicate or interact with us through our Services.

Protected Health Information. Any protected health information (“PHI”) as defined by the Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act of 1996, as amended (“HIPAA”), that we collect, receive, or maintain in our capacity as a covered entity or business associate is governed by a separate Notice of Privacy Practices, provided to patients at the time of their first visit or upon request. To the extent there is a conflict between this Policy and the HIPAA Notice of Privacy Practices regarding your PHI, the HIPAA Notice controls.

Additional Notices. Depending on how you interact with us, we may provide supplemental privacy notices with additional details. Such supplemental notices will control to the extent there is a conflict with this Policy.

Employment Data. This Policy does not apply to personal information collected about job applicants, candidates, or current or former employees or contractors in the context of our working relationship with them.

2. Medical Advice Disclaimer

For Patients: The content on www.plastic-surgery-florida.com, including text, graphics, and images, is for informational purposes only. It is not intended to be a substitute for professional medical advice, diagnosis, or treatment. Always seek the advice of your physician or other qualified health provider with any questions you may have regarding a medical condition. Never disregard professional medical advice or delay in seeking it because of something you have read on this website.

For Healthcare Professionals: This site is for general informational purposes only. You should use your own professional judgment in evaluating the information provided.

3. Personal Information We Collect

We collect personal information directly from you, from third-party sources, and automatically through your use of the Services. The types of information collected may vary depending on how you interact with us.

3.1 Information Collected Directly

- Contact Details and Identifiers. Name, email address, phone number, mailing address, date of birth, gender, and other similar identifiers.
- Account and Profile Information. Username, password, and other information used to access your account through patient portals or our websites.
- Financial and Payment Details. Payment type, payment card details, billing address, insurance information, and other financial information necessary to process transactions.
- Health and Medical Information. When you schedule an appointment, meet with our providers, or use our Services, we may collect health and medical information such as conditions, treatments, diagnoses, and related wellness data. Where such data constitutes PHI under HIPAA, it is governed by our separate Notice of Privacy Practices.
- Communications and Interactions. Records of emails, calls, chat messages, form submissions, social media interactions, reviews, testimonials, and other communications, including information submitted through AI-assisted tools or automated response systems we may deploy.
- Promotional Information. Contact details, preferences, and demographic information collected in connection with marketing communications, offers, or promotions.
- Survey and Feedback Responses. Responses provided through surveys, questionnaires, or research.
- Event and Registration Details. Information related to your participation in or registration for events we host or sponsor.
- Preferences. Communication preferences, service preferences, and other choices you provide.

3.2 Information Collected from Third Parties

We may collect personal information about you from third-party sources, including:

- Healthcare Partners and Referral Sources. Information from referring physicians, laboratories, imaging centers, and other entities involved in your care.
- Data Analytics and Marketing Providers. Lead and prospect information for marketing, advertising, and customer enhancement purposes.
- Social Media Platforms. Information you make publicly available or share when interacting with us through social media.
- Business Partners and Service Providers. Information from entities that perform services or functions on our behalf.

3.3 Information Collected Automatically

We and our service providers may automatically collect certain information about your use of the Services through cookies, pixel tags, and similar technologies:

- Device and Browsing Information. Browser type, operating system, device type, unique device identifiers, language, referring URLs, access times, page views, and clickstream data.
- Activities and Usage. Links clicked, searches performed, features used, items viewed, time spent within the Services, and other interaction data.
- Location Information. Approximate geographic location derived from your IP address.

3.4 Third-Party Tracking Technologies

We use third-party analytics and advertising tools, such as Google Analytics and Google Ads, that may collect information about your activity on our website. These tools use cookies, pixel tags, and similar technologies to collect device, browsing, and usage data as described in Section 7. This information may include identifiers such as your IP address, device identifiers, and browsing behavior.

We take steps to limit the personal information shared with third-party analytics and advertising providers to what is necessary for the purposes described in this Policy. However, certain information collected through these tracking technologies may be transmitted directly to third-party platforms as part of their standard operation. For more information about how these third parties handle your data, please see the privacy policies of the applicable providers, including Google's privacy practices at <https://www.google.com/policies/privacy/partners/>.

We are actively implementing enhanced privacy-protective technologies across our digital properties to further limit the sharing of personal information with third-party tools. We will update this Policy as those enhancements are deployed.

3.5 Derived and Inferred Information

We may derive or infer information about you based on the information we collect, such as preferences, interests, or other demographic characteristics.

4. How We Use Your Information

We may collect, use, disclose, and otherwise process personal information for the following purposes:

- Services and Support. To provide healthcare and related services, manage your account, process transactions, schedule appointments, communicate about your care, and provide technical support.
- Analytics and Improvement. To understand how users access and use the Services, evaluate and improve our operations, and conduct internal quality control and training.
- Communication. To respond to inquiries, fulfill requests, send appointment reminders, and provide information about our Services.
- Customization and Personalization. To tailor content, offer location-based customization, and personalize your experience.
- Marketing and Advertising. To send promotional communications about our Services, in accordance with applicable law and your preferences.
- Research and Surveys. To administer surveys and questionnaires for market research, patient satisfaction, or quality improvement.
- Insight Development. To combine information collected through the Services with other data for analytics and research, typically using de-identified or aggregated data.
- Event Planning. For event registration, attendance tracking, and related communications.
- Security and Protection of Rights. To protect the Services and our operations, and to prevent and detect fraud, unauthorized activities, and other misuse.
- Compliance and Legal Process. To comply with legal or regulatory obligations, respond to subpoenas, court orders, and other legal processes.
- Auditing and Internal Operations. To conduct audits, maintain business records, and enforce our policies.
- General Business Support. To assess and implement business transactions and administer general business functions.

5. How We Share Your Information

We may disclose personal information to the following categories of recipients:

- Affiliates and Related Entities. We may share personal information with our parent company, subsidiaries, and other entities under common ownership or management, including affiliated practice entities within our healthcare network.
- Vendors and Service Providers. We share information with vendors who perform functions on our behalf, including IT and hosting providers, patient management systems, payment processors, marketing and analytics providers, appointment scheduling platforms, customer support services, and legal counsel. These providers are contractually obligated to use personal information only for the purposes disclosed to them.
- Third-Party Analytics and Advertising Providers. We may disclose device, browsing, and usage information to third-party marketing, analytics, and advertising providers for purposes of measuring campaign performance, improving our Services, and delivering relevant content. These providers may receive information such as your IP address, device identifiers, and browsing activity collected through cookies and similar technologies as described in Section 7.
- Business Partners. In some circumstances, we may partner with other businesses to offer services or facilitate programs.
- Other Users. If you submit information through public-facing features such as reviews or testimonials, that information may be visible to other users.
- Business Transfers. In connection with any merger, acquisition, financing, reorganization, bankruptcy, or sale of assets, we may disclose or transfer personal information to the acquiring or successor entity.
- Legal Compliance. We may disclose information as required by law, including in response to subpoenas, court orders, and requests from government entities and law enforcement.
- Security and Protection of Rights. Where we believe disclosure is necessary to protect our rights, property, or safety, or the rights, property, and safety of others.

De-Identified and Aggregated Data. We may use and disclose aggregated, de-identified, and other non-identifiable data for quality control, analytics, research, and other purposes. Where we use de-identified data, we maintain it in de-identified form and do not attempt to re-identify it, except to verify the adequacy of our de-identification processes pursuant to applicable law.

6. Third-Party Websites and Online Booking Platforms

Our Services may contain links to third-party websites, features, or services, including online booking and scheduling platforms operated by third parties. In some cases, you may be redirected to a third-party website or application to complete an appointment booking, payment transaction, or other interaction.

IMPORTANT: When you leave www.plastic-surgery-florida.com and access a third-party platform—including third-party booking, scheduling, or payment systems—your interaction is governed by that third party's own privacy policy, terms of service, and data handling practices, not this Policy. Bassin Center for Plastic Surgery is not responsible for the privacy practices, security measures, content, or data collection activities of any third-party website or platform, even if we link to it or it displays our branding. We encourage you to review the privacy policy and terms of any third-party service before submitting personal information.

We do not control and are not liable for the actions of third-party platforms, including how they collect, store, use, or disclose your personal information. Any questions or concerns about a third-party platform should be directed to that platform's operator.

7. Cookies and Other Tracking Technologies

We and our service providers use cookies, pixels, local storage objects, log files, and similar technologies to automatically collect browsing, activity, device, and similar information. We use this information to analyze how users interact with our Services, optimize performance, and for marketing and analytics purposes.

7.1 Types of Cookies

- Essential Cookies. Necessary for basic site functionality, such as enabling secure areas and remembering your preferences.
- Performance and Analytics Cookies. Collect information about how visitors use our websites, such as which pages are visited most often and whether users encounter errors. This data helps us improve site performance and user experience.
- Functional Cookies. Remember preferences, login details, and choices to provide enhanced features.
- Advertising Cookies. Used to deliver relevant advertisements and measure campaign effectiveness. These cookies may transmit information such as your IP address, device identifiers, and browsing behavior to third-party advertising networks.

7.2 Cookie Consent and Management

You may manage cookies through your browser settings. The “Help” section of most browsers explains how to prevent your device from accepting new cookies, how to receive notification when a new cookie is set, and how to delete cookies. Disabling cookies may affect the functionality of certain features of our Services.

7.3 Third-Party Analytics

We use third-party analytics tools, including Google Analytics, which are operated by third-party companies. These tools may use cookies, pixels, and similar technologies to collect usage data about our Services in order to provide us with reports and metrics that help us evaluate usage and improve performance. To learn more about Google's privacy practices, visit <https://www.google.com/policies/privacy/partners/>. You can also download the Google Analytics Opt-out Browser Add-on at <https://tools.google.com/dlpage/gaoptout>.

7.4 Cross-Device Tracking

We and our third-party providers may use the information we collect about you within our Services to help identify other devices you use (e.g., a mobile phone, tablet, other computer). We and these third parties may use this information to deliver consistent experiences across your devices and for analytics and advertising purposes.

7.5 Third-Party Advertising

We work with third-party advertising networks, analytics companies, and marketing partners to personalize content and display advertising within our Services, as well as to manage advertising on third-party sites. We and these third parties may use cookies, pixel tags, and other tools to collect browsing and activity information, as well as IP addresses, unique identifiers, and advertising IDs. This information may be used to provide you with more relevant ads and content and to evaluate advertising effectiveness.

We may also share certain information (such as hashed email addresses or other contact details) with third parties so that we can better target ads and content to you across third-party sites and platforms.

7.6 Browser and Opt-Out Preference Signals

We are committed to honoring user privacy preferences communicated through browser-based or device-based signals. Where our website and its supporting technology are capable of detecting opt-out preference signals—such as the Global

Privacy Control (“GPC”) signal or similar mechanisms recognized under applicable state privacy laws—we will treat such signals as a valid request to opt that browser or device out of the “sale” or “sharing” of personal information and targeted advertising conducted through cookies and tracking tools on our website, to the extent required by law.

Because our websites use a variety of technologies and platforms, the ability to detect and honor specific signals may vary. If you are unsure whether your opt-out preference signal is being recognized, you may also exercise your opt-out rights directly by contacting us using the information in Section 13.2. We do not currently respond to “Do Not Track” browser signals, as there is no industry-wide standard for this signal at this time.

8. Your Privacy Choices

- Account and Profile Information. You may access, update, and delete certain personal information by adjusting your account settings or contacting us directly.
- Marketing Communications. You may opt out of promotional communications by following the unsubscribe instructions in each message. If you opt out, we may still send transactional or service-related communications.
- Cookie Preferences. You may adjust your cookie preferences through your browser settings.
- Opt-Out of Sale and Targeted Advertising. Where applicable, you may opt out of the “sale” or “sharing” of your personal information and targeted advertising by submitting a request as described in Section 13.
- Industry Ad Choice Programs. You can opt out of targeted ads from participating third-party networks at aboutads.info/choices (Digital Advertising Alliance). Opting out does not stop all ads—you may continue to receive generic advertisements.

9. Children’s Privacy

Our Services are not designed for or directed to children under the age of eighteen (18). We do not knowingly collect personal information from children under 18. If you are a parent or legal guardian and believe we have collected information from your child in violation of applicable law, please contact us using the information in Section 15 so we can take appropriate action.

In jurisdictions with specific requirements regarding children’s data, we comply with applicable provisions of the Children’s Online Privacy Protection Act (COPPA) and relevant state laws.

10. Data Retention

We retain personal information for as long as needed or permitted based on the purpose for which it was collected, consistent with applicable law. When determining retention periods, we consider:

- Whether we are subject to legal obligations requiring us to maintain records for a specified period;
- Whether the information is necessary to provide ongoing services or maintain our relationship with you;
- Whether we have legal positions requiring preservation of information (e.g., legal holds); and
- Applicable statutes of limitations and regulatory requirements.

Where we maintain personal information in de-identified form, we will not attempt to re-identify it except as permitted by applicable law.

11. Security

We have implemented administrative, technical, and physical safeguards designed to protect personal information from loss, misuse, unauthorized access, disclosure, alteration, and destruction. These measures include encryption, access controls, regular security assessments, and employee training.

Despite our efforts, no data security measures can guarantee complete security. You can help protect your information by choosing a strong, unique password and keeping your login credentials confidential. If you believe your account has been compromised, please contact us immediately.

12. Notice of Privacy Practices (HIPAA Summary)

THIS SECTION PROVIDES A SUMMARY OF HOW WE MAY USE AND DISCLOSE YOUR PROTECTED HEALTH INFORMATION UNDER HIPAA. A COMPLETE NOTICE OF PRIVACY PRACTICES IS PROVIDED TO PATIENTS AT THE TIME OF THEIR FIRST VISIT OR UPON REQUEST.

12.1 Uses and Disclosures of PHI

We may use and disclose your PHI for the following purposes:

- Treatment. To provide, coordinate, or manage your healthcare, including disclosures to other providers involved in your care.

- Payment. To bill and collect payment for services, including disclosures to insurance companies, health plans, and other responsible parties.
- Healthcare Operations. To operate our practice, including quality assessment, employee training, compliance activities, and business planning.
- Appointment Reminders. To contact you with appointment reminders, treatment alternatives, or other health-related benefits and services.

12.2 Disclosures Without Authorization

We may disclose your PHI without your prior authorization in certain legal situations, including:

- Public health activities, including disease prevention, reporting child abuse or neglect, and communicable disease notifications;
- Law enforcement purposes, in response to court orders, subpoenas, warrants, or summons;
- Judicial and administrative proceedings;
- Situations involving serious threats to health or safety;
- Workers' compensation programs; and
- As otherwise required by law.

12.3 Your Rights Regarding PHI

You have the right to:

- Inspect and obtain a copy of your medical and billing records;
- Request amendment of health information you believe is incorrect or incomplete;
- Request an accounting of certain disclosures of your PHI;
- Request restrictions on certain uses or disclosures of your PHI; and
- Request confidential communications (e.g., asking that we contact you at a specific phone number or address).

To exercise any of these rights, please contact our office directly or use the contact information in Section 15.

13. State-Specific Privacy Rights

Residents of certain U.S. states may have additional rights under applicable state privacy laws. This section describes rights that may be applicable to Florida residents.

13.1 Florida Digital Bill of Rights (FDBR)

The Florida Digital Bill of Rights, effective July 1, 2024, applies primarily to entities meeting specific high-revenue thresholds (annual global revenue exceeding $1 billion).

Regardless of whether these thresholds apply to our practice, we are committed to transparency and to responding to Florida residents' privacy inquiries and requests in good faith.

Florida residents may have the following rights under applicable law:

- Access. To confirm whether we are processing your personal information and to obtain a copy.
- Deletion. To request deletion of your personal information.
- Correction. To request correction of inaccurate personal information.
- Opt-Out. To opt out of: (a) the "sale" of your personal information; (b) targeted advertising; and (c) certain types of profiling.

13.2 How to Exercise Your Rights

You may submit a privacy request by:

- Calling us at (877) 333-3223 (toll-free) or (407) 851-3888 (Orlando office); or
- Submitting a request through the contact form on www.plastic-surgery-florida.com.

When you submit a request, we will take steps to verify your identity by matching the information you provide with our records. In some cases, we may request additional information. If we cannot verify your identity after a good faith attempt, we may deny the request and explain the basis for the denial.

13.3 Authorized Agents

You may designate an authorized agent to submit privacy requests on your behalf. Authorized agents must provide proof of authorization, and we may require you to directly verify your identity and the agent's authority.

13.4 Appeals

If we deny your privacy request, you may appeal our decision by contacting us within sixty (60) days of the denial. We will respond as required under applicable law.

13.5 Non-Discrimination

We will not discriminate against you for exercising any privacy rights described in this Policy.

13.6 Sale of Personal Information

We do not disclose personal information to third parties in exchange for monetary compensation. However, our use of cookies and tracking technologies may constitute a “sale” or “sharing” under certain privacy laws. Specifically, identifiers, location information (e.g., IP address), and Internet and network activity information may be disclosed to third-party advertising and analytics providers through cookies and similar technologies. You may exercise your right to opt out by contacting us using the methods described in Section 13.2.

14. Changes to This Policy

We may update this Policy from time to time. We will post any changes on this page and update the “Last Updated” date. If we make material changes, we will endeavor to provide prior notice, such as by email or prominent notice on our website. We encourage you to review this Policy periodically.

15. Contact Us

If you have questions or concerns about this Policy or our privacy practices, or wish to exercise your privacy rights, you may contact us by calling our office or submitting a request through the contact form on our website:
